

Paul Nikodem

Managing Director
Head of US Fixed Income Research
Nomura Securities International, Inc.

Paul Nikodem is the Head of US Fixed Income Research at Nomura. His key focus areas are within securitized products, including RMBS, CLOs, and agency MBS.

Paul and his team maintain a regular dialogue with numerous fund managers investing in securitized products, frequently speak on panels at industry conferences, and are regularly quoted in the news media. In the Greenwich survey of Institutional Investors, Paul was ranked as the #1 most helpful Non-Agency RMBS analyst for 9 of the past 10 years, and the #2 most helpful CLO analyst for the past 2 years.

Before joining Nomura in 2010, Paul was a senior mortgage strategist at Goldman Sachs. He holds a MS in Management Science and Engineering from Stanford University and a BS/BAS in Finance and Engineering from the University of Pennsylvania.